Resolution #1 - A resolution to establish within each church a Prayer Coordinator whose ministry it will be to use e-mail and other means to share daily, brief prayer and praise reminders with the congregation.

Whereas we are admonished by Jesus to agree together in prayer and are promised answers to prayer when we agree together on earth concerning matters of God's will; and

Whereas the ministry of an individual who is prayerful and alert to needs of individuals, families, and churches is needed to utilize e-mail to disseminate prayer and praise information; and

Whereas a person is needed with whom anyone can send prayer requests for dissemination to the members of church; and

Whereas a person in each church can daily send prayer requests and reminders to the congregation through e-mail and other methods; and

Whereas a person designated within each church can bring before the congregation the names of BCI staff, missions and churches; and

Whereas a daily ministry of sending brief e-mail prayer requests has proven invaluable in uniting the church in prayer; and

Whereas the ministry of prayer coordinator has resulted in a multiplication of prayer in churches which have a person in charge of this ministry;

Be it therefore resolved that the messengers to this convention return to their congregation with the suggestion that a dedicated person be elected "prayer coordinator" on an annual basis so that the benefits of such a ministry will strengthen prayer life of individuals and churches within the Baptist Convention of Iowa.

Resolution #2 - May it be resolved that the messengers of the Baptist Convention of Iowa express our thanks to First Baptist Church of Winterset, for hosting the 1995 meeting to form the Baptist Convention of Iowa, and also for hosting the 10th anniversary meeting of the convention.

Minutes recorded by
Terry Wilkinson, Secretary

REPORTS OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD

President's Report Dan Doolin

This year is a historical year of importance and reflection for us as Iowa Baptists because of our celebration of a decade of being a convention and the tremendous devastation to the gulf coast caused by Hurricane Katrina in August. There are many things to recall and remember concerning these great events that cause us as Baptists to sit and ponder as we reflect upon our belief and trust in God and His call upon our lives to be His people in good times and bad. As the scripture teaches, "God is the same yesterday, today, and forever," and his motive and movement in the world is still the same today as it was yesterday. As Jesus said, "My father is always at work and I, too, am also at work." [my paraphrase of John 5:17].

Today, we sit in a hallowed place, First Baptist Church – Winterset, IA. It was here ten years ago that the messengers of the Iowa Baptist Fellowship came together to take a courageous and careful step of faith as we moved from a fellowship to a state convention. Our numbers were small, relatively speaking in convention life among other states, but our belief in God was great and our determination was grand. The call was renewed to reach our state and our world with the good news of Jesus Christ.

It is an honor to serve the convention as president upon this historical day as we celebrate our 10 years of existence as a convention. I can't help but reflect upon the people and faces of people we may never have known or heard of who faced the fields and communities of Iowa for the first time. Today we celebrate 97 congregations that are still carrying out this effort all because a few people over fifty years ago dared to go where Southern Baptists had not gone before.

It is a joy to relive our history and to see the good parts of history repeat itself. As a family of believers, we were sad to lose our dear brother in ministry, Dr. Ed Gregory, as he and his wife, Cynthia, responded to the call of Alaska, but God was in complete control as he brought Richard Lamborn back to the state office in Des Moines to serve as Interim Director of State Missions. On behalf of Iowa Baptists, I extend a wonderful thank you to Richard for his faithful service during the interim period and for his example of what it means to live out a life in the fields of Iowa. Thanks are also extended to Lois, Richard's wife, who shared her husband once again with the people of Iowa. And now what joy it is to embrace a new beginning in State Missions as God has brought Steve Murdock and his family to our state to dream a new dream (or continue living out the original dream) of starting multiple new churches across our great state.

In speaking about the men and the women who embrace this dream every day, I am extremely grateful for all of the staff who work in Des Moines and throughout our associations. Without their dedicated work, we, as Iowa Baptists, would not be celebrating this wonderful day of history. Thank you on behalf of the people who assemble every Sunday in a new church start or in a healthy established church, or even a struggling congregation that is there because of your faithfulness to God. Some may not even know your name, but one day they will meet you at the throne of God because you have sacrificed in these fields of service. My challenge to you as staff is to keep challenging us to dream the dream and to leave a legacy that will help a new generation of churches celebrate multiple years of history.

God is never limited by our ability or our resources. Reflection upon the old and new budgets reveals that we are a state of little financial excess. The challenge for our churches to support the work of the convention will always be there. We are in a new day as churches. We need to think about how we can partner together to give more so that we can do more. We teach our children to become independent of Mom and Dad, and even though we will never become completely independent of the North American Mission Board and Lifeway Resources, we must take on more financial responsibility. A little increase in giving means we can do more as a group. I dream of the day when our state convention can have disaster relief as a line item in the budget and many other new ministries we haven't even thought about. But remember what I said, God is not limited to our money. He just asks us to be faithful with it!

By the time you read this report, many Iowa Southern Baptists will have traveled to the Gulf Coast to carry out the mission of helping the victims of Hurricane Katrina. Our lives will forever be changed and so will the heart of our nation. The response from the local church has been tremendous with the offering of money and personal service. What we see as disaster often becomes God's great opportunity. Lost people will come to know Christ and become saved from the greatest disaster of all – spending eternity away from God in Hell. May our vision change for the people we walk by every day. May we become challenged to once again become involved in the real disaster relief work of telling people about the love of Jesus.

Our past reveals our dependence upon God and so does our future. We must remain faithful as we respond to his leadership.

My life verse came to me while serving here in Iowa, as a church planter and I believe is applicable to us as a convention. Phil. 1:6 says, "Be confident in this, the He who began a good work in me will see it through to completion, until the day of Christ Jesus."

2006 - APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE ON COMMITTEES

Having given messengers notice of his plans during the Annual Meeting, Session II, President Dan Doolin delayed the naming of the committee on committees until a later time to be determined by him. No objections were stated. January 31, 2006, President Doolin named the following persons to serve on the committee on committees.

Mike Roberts, Chair
Ted Keys
Max Carmichael
Joni Wilkinson
Joo H. Yi

Constitution Review Committee Report

Mike Roberts, Chair

The Constitution Review Committee did not have to meet this year. The revised constitution and bylaws were submitted at the 2004 annual meeting of the convention.

The committee recommends final approval for adoption at the 2005 annual meeting of the convention.

Resolutions Committee Report

Eddie Fuller, Chair

Resolutions may be submitted to the resolutions committee for review and coordination any time during the year, and not later than the end of the first session of the annual meeting. The committee shall present to the convention at the annual meeting such resolutions as shall be of interest to the convention.

History Committee Report

David Brown, Chair

The annual meeting in November 2005 will observe the 50th year of Iowa Southern Baptist work. The History Committee has met several times to prepare for the 50th anniversary of the work in Iowa. At the time of the last annual meeting, November 2004, Virjama Hamilton went to be with the Lord. She and her husband John were pioneer missionaries to Iowa serving Grand Avenue Baptist Church from 1963 and founding University Baptist Church in Ames in 1976. Wearing many hats, Virjama taught college English, championed the cause of missions at every opportunity and was a comedian who entertained at various gatherings. She was faithful to the end with her unreserved ministry of wisdom and laughter. Virjama will be remembered as one of the most formidable pillars of Iowa Southern Baptist work. Freddie Marshall went to be with the Lord in January. He served Iowa churches at Fort Madison and Allerton.

Partnerships – In past years Iowa has benefited from partnerships with state conventions of Southern Baptists in Missouri and Arkansas. Presently there is a continuing and rewarding partnership with the Tennessee Baptist Convention which began in 2001.

Credentials Committee Report

Marion Livingston, Chair

The purpose of the Credentials Committee is to confirm the election of the messengers from the Iowa SBC churches to the annual convention. We will strive to see that every messenger has been duly elected and properly certified and seated.

Report of the Programs of Work

Jimmy Barrentine, Executive Director-Treasurer

A detailed treasurer's report is included elsewhere in the book of reports. Once again, the Father has provided for the needs of his people. While the Baptist Convention of Iowa does not have abundant financial resources, every financial obligation has been met. Salaries have been paid and ministries have been funded. Join in giving thanks for God's provision.

Important steps toward protecting the Convention's financial future have been taken in 2005. Two of those are worthy of special mention. As a precaution against the times in which we live, the Convention has instituted a new approach to staff and volunteer background checks. The Convention has also adopted, through its executive board, a new policy intended to limit future liability for staff post-retirement benefits.

The Father has blessed the Convention in 2005 with the addition of Steve Murdock as the leader of the Missions Team. Brother Murdock comes to Iowa from a rich background in international, associational, national and state missions. He most recently served as an editor for national Woman's Missionary Union. Join in saying welcome to the Murdocks: Steve, Lissy, Alex and Stephanie.

The executive board celebrated a special anniversary in 2005. John Shaul, associational missionary, Metro Baptist Association, has completed five years of faithful and commendable service.

The Convention also notes the loss of one of its best families. Ed and Cynthia Gregory left Iowa to take accept the Father's next assignment for them. Gregory now serves as the pastor of the First Baptist Church in Anchorage, Alaska. Iowa Baptists will want to continue to remember Ed and Cynthia in prayer.

As the Convention celebrates ten years as a Convention and fifty years of Southern Baptist work in Iowa, eyes turn to the future. The challenge ahead is worthy of the best and most God's people can give. The new strategy plan, Empowering Kingdom Growth, calls for every believer and every church to abide in Christ, to hold to one another and to reach out to others. Through the strategy plan, the Convention makes four important promises to the churches. The Convention promises to: 1) Help the churches make and mature disciples. 2) Help the churches stay healthy. 3) Help start new churches. 4) Help strengthen associations. The Convention also dedicates three primary "tools" or implementation strategies to the challenge: 1) Servant leaders. 2) Quality information and training. 3) Strategic placement of resources. It is understood that nothing good happens without prayer and that great things happen when God's children pray. For that very reason, this Convention moves to the future transported on the wings of prayer. Be sure not to miss the trip!

Missions Team
Steve Murdock, Missions Team Leader

Hitting the ground running would be an understatement in describing my first few weeks of service as missions team leader of the Baptist Convention of Iowa. Some say that smaller conventions have less work than larger ones. Nothing could be farther from the truth. But God is definitely working in the lives of Iowans, and the results are churches being planted in our midst.

Without question, the highlight of missions this year in Iowa is the golden anniversary of church planting in our state. The Baptist Convention of Iowa celebrates fifty years of church planting in Iowa this year, recalling the first Southern Baptist church planted in the state in 1954. Fairview Baptist Church in Anamosa, Iowa was the first SBC church planted in our state, and now, after fifty years, ninety-five churches are affiliated with our convention.

One focus for BCI church planting that was started this year is the new emphasis on raising resources from the harvest. In other words, Iowa churches should be planted and led by Iowans. If someone from outside the state feels led to plant or pastor a church here in Iowa, of course they should be encouraged to do so. But if our churches, associations and convention are to be healthy and growing, we must start looking to our own local congregations for the next generation of church planters and leaders.

Another turning point for missions in Iowa this year was the decision to implement the North American Mission Board's Church Planter System in starting churches. This system includes components such as Church Planter Basic Training, Mentor Training, Church Planter Networks, Church Planter Management System (software) and more. Churches, associations and conventions that have utilized this system across the country have had many disciples made and as a result many churches started. If used properly, this system will most likely be effective in Iowa as well.

BCI's partnership with the Tennessee Baptist Convention is also doing well, as we look for more ways the TBC churches can partner long-term with our church starts. We also hope to utilize more Missions Service Corps volunteers in various ministries across the state. Missions in Iowa are alive and well and will grow in the future as we seek to be God's Kingdom builders.

Evangelism & Ministries Team
Ty Berry, Team Leader

Team: Ty Berry, Team Leader, Troy Fiscella, Youth Evangelism, Jon Jamison, Friendship Baptist Center, Mindy Jamison, WMU Director, Friendship Baptist Center

The Evangelism Team is here to assist you upon your request for your evangelism needs and ministry. Please check out web site (www.bcisbc.com) for a complete lists of ministry supports.

General evangelism churches across Iowa have been urged to effectively engage in purposed evangelism ministry in their communities. We have entered our fourth year of focused evangelistic praying for renewal, and spiritual awakening across Iowa. Here are some highlights in evangelism across Iowa this year.

- Annual Men's Retreat, held at Boone Iowa was well attended and the men were challenged to God's call on their life. The retreat was lead by Arden Taylor from Tennessee.
- Kingdom Growth Conference (State Evangelism Conference) was held at Immanuel Baptist Church, Cedar Rapids. The focus was on evangelistic praying. The new format expanded training opportunities for church health and missions.
- Baptisms across Iowa this year were up again for our third straight increase. We are thankful for the 6.5% increase and continue to pray for more baptisms this year.
- Disaster Relief has been a busy year again. We have responded several times to area of Mississippi and Louisiana. We have trained over 135 people this year.
- Summer/Semester Missionaries have experienced some decline, with new changes developing from the North American Mission Board.
- Hunger Relief Ministries continue to be steadily increasing in ministries across Iowa. This year over 9800 people were helped with Hunger Relief/Crisis Ministry.

Church Health Team
Richard D. Nations, Team Leader

Our Purpose: The team met for a weekend retreat in February and agreed that our purpose simply comes from the verse of Scripture that says: “for the training of the saints in the work of ministry, to build up the body of Christ” (Ephesians 4:12, Holman Christian Standard Bible). We exist as a Church Health team so the Body of Christ may be built up and experience health and growth.

Our Team: David Newcom retired in May. He served as the Bible study consultant and led our consulting group. He and Carolyn have moved to Mesa, Arizona, to retire. We wish them God’s best in their lives. David’s tremendous leadership skills and his servant heart will be missed. Chuck Spindler assumes the role of Bible study & discipleship consultant and he leads the consulting group. Chuck’s former responsibility of pastoral ministry now goes to Dan Wiersema, who serves as both pastoral ministry and worship consultant. Cecil Dale resigned as VBS consultant in December to move to Nebraska.

Our new member of the team: We welcome Jay McFarling, pastor of adults at Grace Church, Des Moines, who serves as our seminary education consultant for the new Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary extension center. Jay joins Mike Roberts, who will continue to serve as a consultant for basic and diploma level seminary extension efforts. Dianna Sparks is the children-preschool consultant. Troy Fiscella is our youth consultant (he also serves on the BCI evangelism and ministry team). Deland Myers serves as the adult ministry consultant. Rachel Nations is the special education consultant.

Our accomplishments this year: We were blessed to receive some additional funding from LifeWay Christian Resources this year that enabled us to undertake several special projects, which we pray will result in twice as many baptisms in BCI churches as the previous year. Some of these projects included grants for churches to hold VBS, to start new Sunday schools, to establish children’s ministries, to do effective follow-up of evangelistic projects and to purchase evangelism training materials. We are praying for God to enable us to bring in a harvest of baptisms during this year. Join us in praying for a God-size goal of 1,200 baptisms statewide. We’ve established an extension center of Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Kansas City, MO. We can now offer quality theology courses in Des Moines. Classes are held at Grace Church, Des Moines.

Our team assisted college ministries at University of Iowa, Iowa State University, University of Northern Iowa, Drake University and Graceland University. Those college ministries reported 57 professions of faith among students this year.

Our Vacation Bible School training group led VBS seminars in 7 locations this spring. So far Iowa churches have reported 87 professions of faith in the VBS reports, which are still coming in to our office. Lloyd Eaken, Mandy Bartholomew, Terry Brent and Ty Berry joined me to provide this training for the associations. Our prayer: That your church may be healthy.
